The FIT4BLUE Project consortium - Fishing Tourism for Blue Economy - carries out pilot tests of the training program in all countries.

FIT4BLUE consortium has tested the pilot training course for trainers / mentors and adult learners in Italy Spain, Greece and France.

Last April, different partners of the project began to carry out the pilot training of the FIT4BLUE program. The first partners to initiate this formation were "Haliéus" and "MARE Società Cooperativa a r.l." Throughout the first week, efforts have been focused on training future mentors to support the Diversification of fishing activities. This first step is essential to transmit all the tools and possibilities offered by the course. During the second week of training, the focus was on fishing industry professionals, the true protagonists of this course. They have been encouraged to undertake and have been taught the possibilities offered by diversification. They have also learned lessons on marketing, Blue Economy, security, business models, etc. This is necessary to start a business with the best guarantees of success.

The next to complete the online training were "Petra Patrimonia Corsica", in France, followed by "FUNDAMAR" and "SGS" in Spain, which concluded the two pilot training courses on June 2 with a very good reception by of the participants that has been reflected in the student satisfaction surveys.
